

DANIEL LEWIS

EDUCATION

1962 - 1967 The Juilliard School, full scholarship. Diploma
1958 - 1962 A graduate of the High School of Performing Arts, NYC

DANCE ADMINISTRATOR

1987 – 2011 Founding Dean of Dance New World School of the Arts

Developed an eight-year conservatory curriculum for training dancers in performance, choreography, Ballet Modern and World Dance Techniques. His responsibilities include artistic direction and management, producing concerts, where he has commissioned over 87 world premieres by faculty and guest artists presenting a total of 789 choreographic works in over 280 concerts. The New World School of the Arts awards a High School diploma, Associate in Arts degree, and Bachelor of Fine Arts degree. Dancers from this program are now dancing in most of the major ballet and modern dance companies throughout the world. In addition, the eight-year choreographic program is developing the next generation of choreographer with a Miami signature. This one of a kind program focuses on the multicultural and multiethnic diversity of Miami and what affects this is having on the dance world. The school was created by the Florida legislature as a Center of Excellence in the performing and visual arts. It is a cooperative venture of the Dade County Public Schools, Miami Dade College and the University of Florida.

TEACHER

WHO'S WHO

I am listed in Who's Who in America; I have been asked to join Who's Who in: Europe, and just about every Who's Who possible. I have not responded to these as I feel these organizations have no integrity.

NOTE: Although the above CV is accurate, it is by no means complete. Someday, I will spend some time going through the boxes of programs and newspaper clippings, papers, presentations and complete this for its historical value.
